

Business Document

Northwind Analytics grew recurring revenue by 14 percent in FY2026.

The company uses retrieval augmented generation to answer questions from private reports.

Every answer should include citations so business users can verify the source.