

Science Paper

Embeddings convert text into dense vector representations.

Vector similarity search retrieves passages that are semantically close to a query.

Chunk overlap preserves context when important information crosses a split boundary.